

Robert Speed
Managing Director, London

Robert Speed joined Gavin Anderson & Company in 2004 as a director of the London office. His experience in financial markets spans more than twenty years, primarily as an Engineering Analyst and sector head.

Throughout his analytical career, which included roles as Head of Engineering Research at UBS, Research Director for the Engineering sector at Henderson Crosthwaite and Head of Capital Goods Research Marketing at Commerzbank, he was consistently rated in the leading surveys and maintained a high media profile.

His breadth of research experience spans the Engineering, Automotive and Technology sectors, where he has led coverage for many large capitalisation companies, both in the UK and Continental Europe.

Robert's transactional experience at Gavin Anderson includes leading on a range of IPOs and VC sales, spanning major international corporations to AIM.

Robert is a graduate of Loughborough University and a Fellow of the Securities Institute.
