

Jodie Brough
Managing Director, Australia

Jodie brings to Gavin Anderson & Company comprehensive experience in media and communications, particularly focusing on strategic issues management in the public sector. As head of GA Australia's transport and infrastructure team, Jodie has worked extensively in the motorway, transport and energy sectors, specialising in major infrastructure projects, stakeholder relations, communications strategies and organisational reviews.

Prior to joining GA's Sydney office in 2004, Jodie was a senior NSW Government media adviser and communications director in key government infrastructure agencies. She started her career as a journalist, reporting on federal politics for The Sydney Morning Herald, Australia's leading broadsheet newspaper.
