

Byron Ousey
Managing Director, London

Byron Ousey is one of the senior advisors at Gavin Anderson, advising on and handling clients in specialist fields such as capital markets, banking and financial services, manufacturing, media and property. Additionally, Byron has a broad and extensive base of emerging markets, media, IPO and M&A experience.

Starting his career as a business journalist, Byron moved into public relations as Chief Press Officer for Lloyds Bank. Following this, he was appointed International Manager of Corporate Communications at De Deers in London, and then became Morgan Grenfell's Head of Corporate Communications.

Byron started his own specialist investor relations consultancy in continental Europe, which he merged with Gavin Anderson & Company in the 1990s.